Why is this program unique?
USC is a smaller university of about 3,500 students. The university is comprised of three major departments (Arts and Social Sciences, Business, and Science, Health and Education), allowing students to easily find classes that would fit their majors. USC emphasizes the cultural and social aspects of the study abroad experience, planning various events for international students throughout the semester.

Why study in Maroochydore, Australia?
Maroochydore is only a short distance away from the 65 kilometers of beaches that make up the Sunshine Coast. It is also close to the Mooloolah River National Park and the famous Australian Zoo, as well as the large, metropolitan city of Brisbane. Maroochydore is located in Queensland, and has a warm climate and lots of beautiful scenery. The smaller city of Maroochydore has a friendly and safe atmosphere, and the campus, located close to a nature reserve, is frequented by families of wild kangaroos.
