Program Overview
If you are majoring or minoring in business, or just want to add a business perspective to your current major, a semester at ASB can help to internationalize your degree. Choose from a large selection of business administration and business communication courses taught in English. Semester, academic year, and a variety of summer term options are available.

Why study in Denmark?
Denmark has frequently been ranked as the happiest and least corrupt country in the world. Being the most southern of the Scandinavian countries, Denmark is home to some of the most unique architecture, fashion, and music found in Europe.

Aarhus is the second largest city in Denmark and the capital of Jutland, the mainland. It has a well-preserved historic center, good museums, lovely old churches and is known for its rich downtown cafe life. Picturesque winding streets and a river running through the center of town are popular afternoon and evening hangouts.

What are the courses offered?
Courses are offered through the Aarhus School of Business in the areas of Marketing, Management, European Studies, Business Administration, Modern Languages, and Economics.

What accommodations are offered?
Students work with the International Housing Office to arrange their housing in student residences, shared-facilities houses or a room sublet from a private landlord.
